1. A gigantic anti-American demonstration in Mukden on 27 July was obviously well organized. An orderly crowd gathered several blocks away from the American Consulate General before marching toward it. The crowd was estimated to be several thousand.
2. The usual slogans, "Get U. S. armed forces out of China." "Down with American imperialism." etc. were shouted and banners with similar slogans were carried. Also at least one Soviet flag was in the crowd. At the American Consulate General the crowd continued to shout slogans but soon dispersed.
3. A plain clothes police agent said that the demonstration was to show the Americans that spying such as that recently disclosed would not be tolerated. Neither banners nor shouting mentioned spying.
